

Design Feedback

Hello Danny,

It's great that you're creating your own portfolio design, this will help make your profile unique and memorable. Your portfolio is creative and clean. Good job! 🙌 I just have a couple of recommendations for improvement that you could implement.

Everything marked with this emoji 🚨 are things we strongly recommend adjusting.

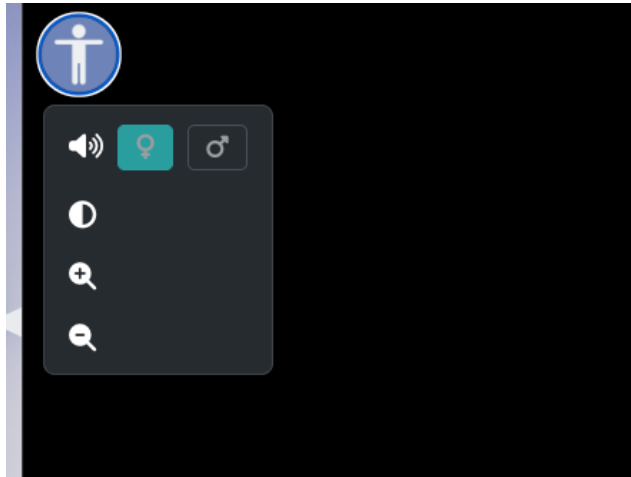

Hero:

- ☐ 🚨 If you don't plan any interaction with this circle, just remove it — I immediately moved my mouse toward it, expecting something to happen.
- ☐ 🚨 Rethink the size of this button. It's fine to use a long button if you prefer, but make sure to define its length once and apply it consistently to all your primary buttons.
- ☐ It's also recommended to keep button text short — avoid using full sentences. You could, for example, change it to something like "My Projects."
- ☐ The photo appears pixelated on large screens. Please check its size and resolution.

- ☐ 🚨 This menu feels a bit confusing. The human icon isn't very clear — maybe replace it with a settings icon and place it on the right side, after the language option. You could also add a dropdown menu for the languages to make the layout cleaner.

What are your plans for the sound icon and the two icons next to it?

About me section (or in the hero):

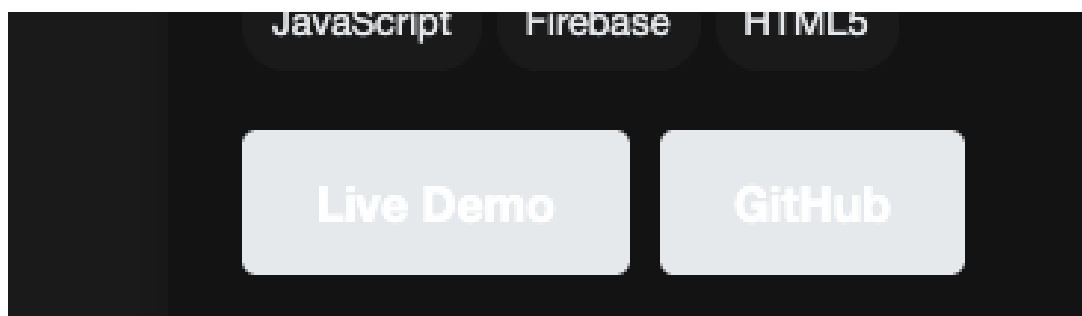

- ☐ Try to include information that would be valuable for recruiters. For example, explain why you're passionate about coding and what inspires you to keep improving your programming skills. You could also mention where you're based and whether you're open to remote work or relocation.

Skill section:

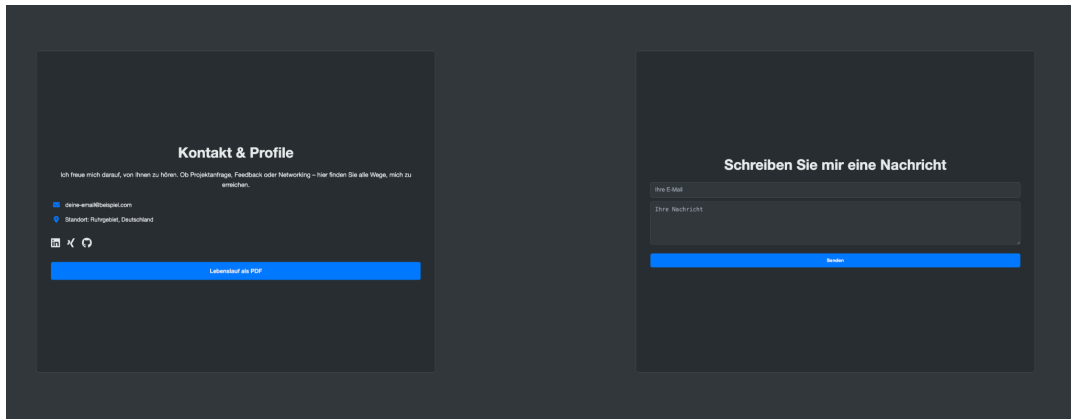

- ☐ We recommend adding a skills section where you can highlight the skills you've learned so far, as well as those you're currently learning or interested in developing in the future. (check our portfolio designs if you need inspiration)

Projects

- ☐ 🚨 In dark mode, the buttons in the project section lose contrast. Adjust the colors to ensure better visibility and stronger contrast.

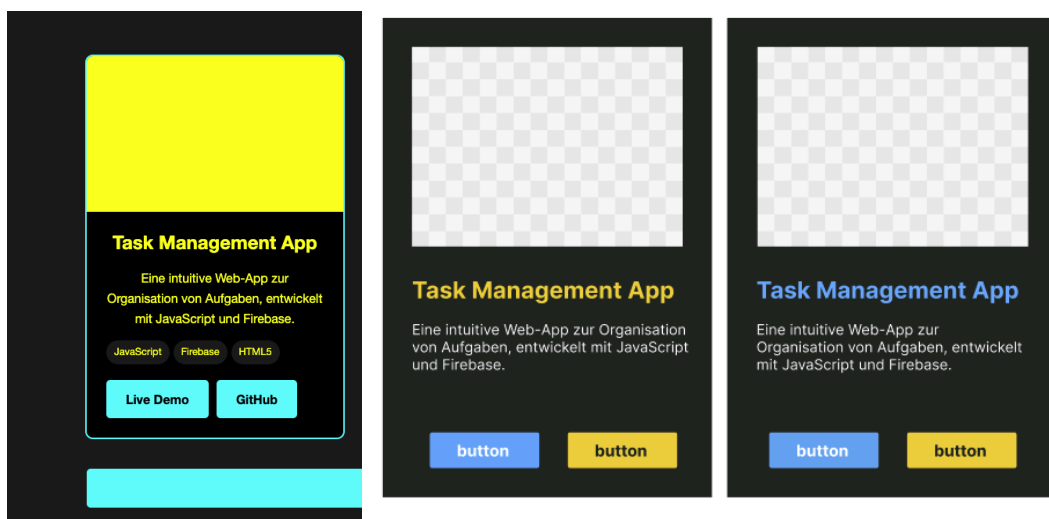

- ☐ On large screens, the two components in the contact section have an unusually large gap between them, which makes them look disconnected. Consider improving the responsiveness and reducing the space to create a clean layout.

Colors

- ☐ Here are my suggestions for improving your color combination.
black: #232725, yellow:#E6BA25, blue:#54B7FF
- ☐ I would also align the content to the left instead of centering it.

This is my feedback and recommendations. You are on the right track, hope you have fun working on your portfolio. 💪

Best regards!
